Feel free to use this as a template for your documentation in this class. You can add rows to the table as needed, or remove extra rows if you would like.
You can also just follow the standard documentation style that I demonstrate in class.

Function Name	Inputs & Output	What does it do?
backgroundColor	User selects color for background, background color changes	This function uses a colorpicker to let the user select a background color for the different web pages
fontColor	User selects color for font, font color changes	This function uses a colorpicker to let the user select a font color for the different web pages

If you have a complicated line or section of code, talk about it here.

The Code	What does it do?

If you have any errors, talk about it here. If there is no Error Message, leave that column blank.

Error Message	Put the error in your words	What did you try to fix it?

If you used anything we didn't cover in class, use this table.

Name	Link to Docs	What does it do?	Why did you use it?
